Wisconsin delegates, though pledged, are not legally bound to vote for their man in the convention, even on the first ballot.

Willkie's poor showing was the big surprise. He had campaigned the state for 13 days, speaking in 25 cities, in a drive to erase the opposition he knew existed. He made the issue clear, declaring the result in Liberal Wisconsin well might point the convention's course.

Willkie had the only full ticket of 24 running pledged to him. Dewey's supporters were handicapped not only by the New Yorker's refusal to declare himself a candidate but also by his eleventh-hour request that their candidates refrain from filing in his name. As a result nine of the 24 either failed to file nomination papers or withdrew.

Therefore by request we offer a review of the position in as unencumbered terms as possible.

Let's start by making our own easy map. Just draw an isosceles triangle with a narrow apex and stand it on its base. That's Burma. Its base is washed by the Bay of Bnegal. West of the upright is India. North of the tip is Tibetbut forget that. On the east is China (with French-Indo China and Siam, but don't bother about them).

China's Life-Line At Stake Now then, there are three main theaters. One is the northern tip. The second is about half way down the western side-where the Mikado's men have crossed into India. The third is along the coast at the Well now, the fighting in the extreme northern theatre revolves about the Allied effort to oust the enemy so the Ledo road can be extended. That's where our Lt. Genmain objective is the great Japanese base of Myitkyina, head of the railway that runs south clear to Rangoon on the coast. The Allies have this base surrounded, and the conflict is increasingly flerce.

In the second theatre, where the Fowler. Japanese have crossed into India, they are aiming at the railway, through the jungles. If they should China, since land and air transport are coordinated.

Japs Seek Indian Revolt The fighting has been heavy and the invaders have suffered 9,000 casualties in the last three weeks. The Braitish command expresses confidence in Allied ability to control the situation There's no reason to doubt this estimate, though some nasty positions might develop. There probably are a minimum of 1.000,000 trained and armed troops in India, and strong American and British Air Forces, to handle any crisis. But of course we can't afford to have the China life-line interfered with at this juncture.

The Japanese have another important objective in this drive. That's political They claim the invasion is being made by the Indian Aimy of Freedom They want to start a revolt in India against the English

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. New York, April 5 (AP)-Writing as a small-town fan as well as a sports editor. Jimmy Murphy of the Canton, Ill., Daily Ledger offers the opinion that "small-town fans are the forgotten men of the sports world despite the fact that they support sports events in the larger cities by attending sports events whenever possible." . . . So far as baseball is concerned, Jimmy blames the farm system for this situation and adds that, if farms were eliminated, it would mean the return of minor league baseball to many small cities which dropped out because the local owners couldn't compete with major-owned clubs. . . . Mainly because he touches on the "smalltown fans" angle, Jimmy's opinions seem to merit special attention.

ANGOTT BEATS

Washington, April 5 (AP)-Mr. Samuel Angott, one of the leading citizens of Washington, Pa., told all within listening distance today that he's ready to rejoin the executive circle of fistic champions.

That is, unless Uncle Sam calls him up for military service before he gets another chance to show his wares in a title contest.

Angott. Who lost his National Boxing association lightweight crown to Juan Zurita of Mexico last month, showed last night that he still has the championship urge. He pounded out a decisive 10-round verdict over Aaron Perry, 18-yearold Washington negro billed as a sensational fistic prospect. The decision broke Perry's streak of 16 consecutive wins. Sammy used the first round to feel out" Perry, then tied the youngster up with a body attack Aaron uncorked a right-hand attack in a desperate knockout try. Split Decision Referee Charles Reynolds and one of the judges, O. U. Singer, voted for Angott. Another judge, Dr. Robert Eller, thought Perry had the edge because of general aggressiveness and some half dozen solid Before the fight, Angott, who fought as a welterweight, said he was through with trying to make the lightweight 135-pound standard.

Afterwards he wasn't so sure and indicated he'd like another crack at If Angott tries to climb back into the lightweight title chase, the already dizzy situation in that division will be further complicated. Zurita holds NBA's recognition. Bob Montgomery of Philadelphia is champion in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. ANGOTT BEATS AARON PERRY nation. The fighter is 25, married,

Washington, April 5 (AP)-Mr. Samuel Angott, one of the leading citizens of Washington, Pa., told all within listening distance today that he's ready to rejoin the executive circle of fistic champions.

That is, unless Uncle Sam calls him up for military service before he gets another chance to show his wares in a title contest.

Angott, who lost his National Boxing association lightweight crown to Juan Zurita of Mexico last month, showed last night that he still has the championship urge He pounded out a decisive 10-round verdict over Aaron Perry, 18-yearold Washington negro billed as a sensational fistic prospect. The decision broke Perry's streak of 16 consecutive wins

Sammy used the first round to 'feel out" Perry, then tied the youngster up with a body attack Aaron uncorked a right-hand attack in a desperate knockout try. Split Decision

Referee Charles Reynolds and one of the judges, O. U. Singer, voted for Angott. Another judge, Dr. Robert Eller, thought Perry had the edge because of general aggressiveness and some half dozen solid smashes.

Before the fight, Angott, who fought as a welterweight, said he was through with trying to make the lightweight 135-pound standard, Afterwards he wasn't so sure and indicated he'd like another crack at

POWER At first a little group they stood

Eager, happy and content. One and all in doing good Time and strength and money spent

Then in an unfortunate hour Some resented use of power.

Thus the group was split in two. Envy, rage and strife began. Some in bitterness withdrew Boasting they'd a wiser plan, But where peace had reigned before Wild dissension held the floor.

Further, further to the right!" "Further to the left!" they cried. Each professing clearer sight To command the purpose, tried. Thus what might have ended well Into dissolution fell.

Is it here we humans all Into self-destruction slip? Is the snare in which we fall Pride of power and leadership? And so fond of power are we Peace on earth can never be?

Michaux Forests Are Furnishing Millions Of Feet Of Lumber For War Uses

8 SAW MILLS AT Pennsylvania Hens WORK; FIRE LOSS SERIOUS YEARLY

The Michaux forests, lying atop South Mountains in Adams and Franklin counties, have joined the classification of "war industries."

A quarter of a million board feet of lumber were removed from these forests to be shipped to war centers during February alone and the amount cut in March, although not yet tabulated, is expected to be as high or higher, Thomas Norris, district forester at Caledonia, reported today in urging everyone to be doubly careful this year that no fires start in the mountains in the western part of the country.

Forest fires have already caused a loss of $42,000 worth of lumber alone each year in the Michaux district, Mr. Norris pointed out. Every fire sabotages the war effort by using up man hours, destroying critical war material and reducing the nation's vital natural resources, the forester said, in urging everyone, especially fishermen and farmers, to be particularly careful this year in handling fires in the forests.

There are an average of 26 fires a year in Michaux forest, it was stated, with at least one of the fires started by a fisherman who made a fire along a stream and then left it before it was out. Two of the fires, on an average, are started from the campfires of hunters and two are caused from brushburning that got out of control of farmers. A number of small fires are caused annually by people dropping lighted matches or cigars.

Many Are Incendiary Because most of the fires, except those started by hunters and fishermen, are easy to reach they are generally put out before any great damage is done. Because of the lack of manpower, a fire starting far back in the mountains where it is almost impossible to discover it quickly or to extinguish it once it has started may lead to discover consequences, Mr. Norris said. Not only would there be great damage to the trees, which are being used at the rate of 250,000 board feet a month for war production, but the warden. drain on manpower to secure sufficient help to put out the conflagra-

are intentionally set and "unfortun- | weather." ately those fires do the most damage," Mr. Norris said. The deliberately set are for the most part those that started out "lawfully" for the purpose of clearing plowed land, burning off logging slash and brush or other debris. When such fires get out of control because of carelessness, or ignorance or willingness to "take a chance," they constitute a problem for the forest service. The second class, which are fewer, but do the most damage, are those set by incendiaries or fire bugs.

While no accurate estimate can be made of the amount of damage done by fires in the South Mountains of Adams county, some estimate can be gained from the fact that 6,000,000 board feet of lumber can be cut from the Michaux forests that luck each year by merely removing the "mature trees" which will in due course rot and fall if they are not gard to farmers still "up in the air," cut. If the area which has been little advance planning can be done destroyed by fire were producing at along the lines of what young farm the rate of the forests that are left labor will be available, the farmers an additional 6,000,000 board feet say, but again they are planning as could be cut each year without af- well as they can to continue as if fecting the growth of the forests. At the rate of $7 a thousand board feet that would amount to $42,000 a year, it was pointed out. Eight saw mills are in operation 1943.

nnsylvania Hens Set New Records ALL-VICTORY

Pennsylvania chickens are still breaking wartime and all other records in laying eggs! The month of February was taken in stride by the 18,868,000 laying hens and pullets with production of 260 million eggs, the highest February total on record with the Federal - State Crop Reporting Service in the State Department of Agriculture.

The achievement was 11 per cent above the February 1943 total of 234 million eggs.

in the Michaux woods at present, four are operated by the Good lumber company of Quincy; two by Charles Taylor of Bendersville and one each by E. F. Rockey and Son, Gardners, and L. L. Diamond, Chambersburg. During February the companies took 250,000 board feet of lumber off the mountains, cutting only "mature" or "over mature"

There are an estimated 15 million board feet of lumber in mature and over mature trees standing in the forests which have-not been-heavily feet of over-mature lumber has been wasted." cut so far, as the lumber companies "farm" the forests for food for the nation's needs.

Some of the lumber is going to plants at Peach Glen. Other lumber added, may yield 15 tons to the acre; is being made into crates at Letterkenny ordnance depot.

Safety Rules

Some is going to Chambersburg Waynesboro war plants for crating and use in war needed articles and other lumber is going to York and other war plants. Every resident of Adams county and Pennsylvania is able to help, from time to time in the struggle to save the forests, Mr. Norris said. Important things for everyone to remember were listed as; "Being careful with matches, and with cigarettes, pipe ashes and campfires; to help prevent incendiaries from starting forest fires; to put out small forest fires that he may discover along the roadside or on his own property; to report all forest fires to the nearest ranger or fire

The difficulty in labor lies in the future, growers say, with no one knowing how the help will be obtained to harvest the large crops of fruits and vegetables expected this summer and fall. With luck, they may get through, most growers and farmers say, and continue to make plans with the expectation of having

Green leafy vegetables were given high priority rating by Dr. Waren B. RAIL TERMINAL IN BUCHAREST BADLY DAMAGED

By LYNN HEINZERLING Allied Headquarters, Naples. April 5 (AP)—Strong formations of U.S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators, in their first attack on Bucharest yesterday, caused considerable damage to the railway yards through which German supplies roll to the Russian front and left one third of the Rumanian capital covered with a heavy cloud of smoke, headquarters announced today.

First reports indicated that the gunners in the heavy bombers shot down 46 planes in a battle lasting more than an hour and that the pilots of the escorting Thunderbolts and Lightnings accounted for three more. Twelve Allied planes were lost in yesterday's operations in this theater which included raids against supply dumps, bridges, gun positions and bivouacs in the Italian battle area and sweeps against shipping off the Dalmatian coast.

Fire Warehouses (The Berlin radio asserted that

One cluster of bombs landed among freight cars drawn up at a siding and was believed to have destroyed 80 units of rolling stock. Three choke points in the yards were reported hit squarely and photo interpreters also claimed bomb bursts among adjacent industrial buildings and nearby military barracks. A round house was said to have been partly destroyed and fires were left blazing in a block of warehouses 1,400 feet long.

Five main buildings were reported in flames.

He listed some questions-which may be bothering others—and asked for some answers. Here are the questions, and the answers by Selective Service (SS) and the War Manpower Commission (WMC):

Q. Who fixes the calls for local draft boards?

A. The armed services tell national SS how many men they want. This is relayed to state SS headquarters and on down to local boards, the calls being worked out on statewide basis. Draft Is Lagging

Q. How much are the boards behind on their calls for men? A. Nationally, more than 100,000 and have been lagging that much since last October. Q. Why? A. The boards failed to fill their calls. One reason: hesitancy about nounced the birth of a daughter inducting fathers, the hesitancy Louise Musselman. Capt. Another: appeals from the draft are greater now than ever.

Q. Why is the armed force total fixed at 11,300,000 by July 1? Why are so many men needed?

A. That figure has been set by the chiefs of staff for what they apparently consider good military reasons, operating on a time-table.

Q. Has the request for emphasis on men under 26 been sent to local boards and, if so, has it been specific family moved to the property re-

A. SS says "yes" to both questions, pointing out that it sent: 1. To local boards a couple of weeks ago, President Roosevelt's call for a review of all occupational draft deferments.
